Fact Sheet

FACT ONE: Christian magazine readers are ACTIVE CONSUMERS, who as a group have tremendous buying power, and who make excellent mail order customers for a wide range of products and services. A 1998 study conducted by Christianity Today found that in a 12-month period, an amazing 77% of Christian publication readers PURCHASED A PRODUCT OR SERVICE THROUGH MAIL ORDER!

FACT TWO: Christian magazines reach over 100 million avid Christian readers throughout the United States everyday. These are Christians of all denominations, linked together by their passion and interest in their respective communities and churches. So what does this mean to you as an advertiser? It means you're dealing with LOYAL readers who look to their Churches' publications for advice and guidance on family and life issues, which guarantees that these publications will enjoy a long shelf life.

For instance, recent surveys run by the Simmons Market Research Bureau, found that Christian readers value their publications so highly that they come back an average on 2.3 times to re-read their issues, and spend an average of 46 minutes reading each issue. Most important, this intense involvement with their Churches and the Churches' publications carries over to the advertisers who support these publications! In fact, a whopping 74% of Christian magazine and newspaper readers prefer to do business with Christian magazine and newspaper advertisers.

FACT THREE: You'll maximize your advertising dollars by FOCUSING your advertising on a concentrated market. Focused advertising is by far the most effective way of advertising your product or service. Any marketing expert would tell you that every dollar you spend focusing on a targeted segment of the market, is worth at least 20 or 30 times what you would have spent on mass marketing. Clearly, with focused advertising you can squeeze every last cent out of your advertising dollar!

Are all products suitable for advertising in a Christian publication? No, of course not. Christian magazines and papers will not accept advertising for sex, gambling, alcoholic beverages, or tobacco products. Outside of this, however, the field is pretty wide open.

As consumers, Christians magazine readers are interested in books, music, computer software/hardware, electronics, personal growth, clothing, gifts, novelties, collectibles, stationery, financial services, insurance, pharmaceuticals, travel and vacation packages, phone services, seminars, parishes, retreats, professional services, household goods, school supplies, business opportunities, job opportunities, college planning, retirement planning, securities investments, educational products, personal and home security, health, nutrition, fitness, charitable contributions, fundraising ideas, and more.
